USE GLITTER, LOOK YOUNGER

"Think you've outgrown shimmery shadow? Think again! A slight glimmer deflects the focus from lines and creases and brightens eyes, too. Apply matte shadow all over lids, then tap a little shimmer right at your lash line. You'll be surprised by how flattering it is."

—Kari Solyntjes, Fab Over Forty

DRAW IN LUSHER LASHES

"A tight-lining trick I recently learned: Using a tapered liner brush, run a precise stroke of cream or gel liner below the base of your upper lash line, from corner to corner, to make eyes look bigger and lashes longer. It's practically undetectable."

—Lara Ramos, The Glossarie

BE A SINGLE LADY

"If, like me, you lack naturally fluttery lashes, apply individual falsies only to sparse spots—you get a full look without the super dramatic effect. Instead of dotting glue directly onto lashes, put a few drops on a clean surface and let them dry a bit until they're tacky. Pick up each lash with tweezers, dip the root in the adhesive and hold it right on your lash line for about 20 seconds. Easy and gorgeous!"

—Laurie Leopold, 312 Beauty

WATERPROOF LESS

"I like to apply mascara that has nourishing ingredients like argan oil and glycerin, then use a waterproof mascara as a topcoat. When used alone, waterproof formulas can dry out lashes."

—Julia DiNardo, Fashion Pulse Daily

REDEFINE YOUR BROWS

"It's no secret that good brows can completely transform your face for the better. My latest product crush is Benefit Cosmetics Gimme Brows, a gel with tinted synthetic fibers that act like hair extensions for your brows. Genius!"

—Laurie Leopold

VASELINE

"Dab a little onto your cheekbones and Cupid's bow for instant glow."

—Kristie Burnett, Blushing Basics

BABY POWDER

"Dust onto your mascara wand before coating lashes to add thickness."

—Katie McBroom

BAKING SODA

"After brushing your teeth, dip your toothbrush in it for a quick brightening scrub."

—Alexis Wolfer

A MATCH

"Hold the tip of your eye pencil over a flame until it melts a bit—and cools—to get a liquidlike liner."

—Jenny Wu, Good, Bad, and Fab

GET THE COLOR YOU CRAVE

"Sick of falling in love with a shade of lipstick at the makeup counter only to find that it looks completely different on? Yeah, I was too. To get the hue that reflects what I see in the tube, I prime my lips with concealer. It also helps lipstick stay on so much longer."

—Alexis Wolfer

PLUMP IT UP

"I use two lipsticks—one a shade lighter than the other—to create the illusion of fuller lips. Apply the lighter color on the center of lips. Then, using a brush, blend the darker color out toward the edges."

—Katie McBroom, Martinis and Mascara

LAY OFF THE LINER

"Bold liner screams. 'The 80s called and it wants its look back!' For extra definition and shaping, I do short, thin strokes of color only where my lips need it."

—Lara Ramos
